

One's Place

Dream an illusion of one's reality
Dream a time to have one's truth
To be in a place that seems safe
To be where reality cannot be

World that can bring happiness
World that can bring sadness
World that can bring hope
World that can bring love

Colors I see inside of me
Colors that are not by name
Red is not red
Blue is not blue

Smell is all around me
Hair a smell of clean
Flower a smell of sunset
Water a smell of hope

Touch is within my fingertips
Touch a dog stress no more
Touch a flower happiness emerge
Touch the grass fulfillments inside

See the miracle of dreams
See the objects of time never been
See the one who will never be
See heaven from my bed.

Taste a chocolate sundae never tasted
Taste a cheek never kissed
Taste a morning never felt
Taste a tear never cried.

Dream's a place each can see
Dream's a place I wish to see
Dream's a place I go to now
Dream's a place that will always be.

